

ONE WAY TO SOLVE the perennial parking problem in Kersting Ct. and at the same time end the wrangle over angle vs. parallel parking would be to create a parking mall, as the photo suggests. Angle parking could possibly be permitted on both sides of the street, allowing room for five or six more cars, and the area would be made more attractive. The idea is Al Suman's, who did the art work in this picture, and the photograph is by Bert Embree. Arguments in favor of the project are presented on the Editorial Page.

Strike Ends, Area Supermarkets Open

Area supermarkets, closed by the strike-lockout that idled thousands of employees, opened today for the first time since Dec. 31.

The new 63-month contract, negotiated between the Retail Clerks Union and the Food Employers Council, gives the union journeymen a $19.60-a-week pay hike plus other benefits.

Under the new contract the weekly base wage of $92 for experienced clerks will be raised to $111.60, according to a union spokesman.

Full details of the contract, however, were not revealed yesterday, pending ratification of union members.

LOCALLY, stores which opened today include Shopping Bag, Market Basket and Alpha Beta.

The prolonged strike-lockout, estimated to have cost market owners at least $100 million in gross revenue, was marked by a 13-day deadlock and bitter charges and countercharges by both sides. The industry maintained an almost unprecedented solid front, with few stores breaking away to sign interim agreements with the union.

Sierra Madre market proprietors signed agreements with the union before the strike started and thus were obligated to remain open.

Another bitter by-product of the strike is the lingering suspicion by the shopping public that the independent markets which remained open profited extraordinarily by raising prices on some items and by not advertising special prices on any products.

The CBS television program of Bill Stout was devoted to this subject last Tuesday night.

A check by The Sierra Madre News at local markets, however, shortly after the walkout started indicated that there were no price increases here as a result of the walkout.

One area store, the Foot-hill Market, continued to advertise specials throughout the strike.

Robert K. Fox, head of the Food Employers Council, said the new agreement "once again marks Southern California as the most progressive area in America in both wages and working conditions for market employees."

"The new contract means that for more than five years you can look forward to uninterrupted food service."

Joseph DeSilva, chief union negotiator, hailed the agreement as an "historic document, made with the cooperation of all of organized labor and marking great progress for working men and women."

School Board Faces Deficit In Budget

The problem of raising additional funds will confront the Board of Education at its meeting Monday night in the Sierra Madre School.

Superintendent Robert E. Walker said a budget report will be presented which clearly indicates the need for more revenue.

Other items on the Board agenda include (1) the length of the school day, (2) pupil expenditures, (3) paving projects and (4) the possible need of a sound barrier such as a wall or fence between Sierra Mesa School property and adjacent lots.

The appointment was made at Col. Thurber's request.

Mr. Parks will devote much of his interest to the volunteers who will conduct the house-to-house campaign under the leadership of Mrs. James Moore.

The appeal for funds in the business district will be handled by a team of volunteers now being formed by Mrs. Robert Dodge. Mrs. Peggy Cheadle is chairman of the group soliciting special contributions from the various organizations in Sierra Madre.

In an effort to increase the fund total, a group headed by Mrs. Patricia Sewall will arrange a series of special events.

RECEIVING ONE of Scouting's highest awards, the Silver Scout badge, is John Born, 43 Sierra Pl., at ceremonies Monday evening in the Sierra Madre School. Presenting the badge is William Spargur Jr., leader of Troop 372. Another high award, that of Eagle Scout, was presented to Donald Moore of Hastings Ranch. Following the Honor Court, a reception was held for the Born youth in his home. Life Scout badges went to Ken Broomfield and Dwight Freund. (See story on this page.)

'Copter Landing Area Sought in City Lot

A landing area for Search and Rescue Squad helicopters may be established in the vacant city lot immediately east of the Woman's Clubhouse, it was reported yesterday.

The squad made the request Wednesday night at a meeting of the Parks and Recreation Commission. Use of the city land for this purpose must be approved by the City Council.

If permission is granted, a helicopter carrying an injured hiker, for example, could land in the lot, and the victim could quickly be taken to the Sierra Madre Hospital.

An emergency landing field would probably be used only a few times during the year.

The vacant city lot also was the subject of a report by Harold Pangborn of the Lions Club. The club wants to hold a Pioneer's Day celebration there next summer.

Mr. Pangborn presented an outline of activities planned by the club. The last Pioneer Day was held here five years ago and was a city-wide affair. Before that, the Lions Club sponsored the celebration every summer for about six years.

Joshua Meador Is February Gallery Artist

Joshua Meador, one of the winners of the First Purchase Prize of Sierra Madre, will be the guest artist in the gallery in the Sierra Madre Library during February.

Mr. Meador was graduated from the Art Institute of Chicago, cum laude, in 1935, and moved to California in 1936. He was animator and director of animation for the Walt Disney Studios, 1936-1956.

MR. MEADOR began exhibiting easel painting in 1945, and has had several one-man shows not only in California, but outside the state.

HE HAS won 16 awards, medals and prizes in the last nine years.

There will be an opening for the exhibiting artist on Sunday, Feb. 1, from 2 to 5 p.m., to which the public is cordially invited.

Report Set On Cemetery Next Tuesday

The Cemetery Committee will report at the meeting of the Coordinating Council next Tuesday, Feb. 3, at 8 p.m. in the district office of the Sierra Madre School.

The committee has been investigating the possibility of establishing a perpetual care fund to maintain the local cemetery. G. Norman Kennedy, a local attorney, is chairman.

Members of the Coordinating Council also will be asked to ratify a motion passed by the Board to hold elections in March instead of May. The Nominating Committee will present its slate of officers for 1959-60.

There also is expected to be a discussion on "What is our organization's responsibility to our community?"

Zoning Fight Stirs City Council Session

Water District Advances

Nearly enough signatures have been obtained to complete one of the vital steps toward forming a separate water district, it was reported yesterday.

Four cities—Sierra Madre, Alhambra, Azusa and Monterey Park—decided to form a separate district in order to stay out of the San Gabriel Valley group and eventually to be absorbed by the Metropolitan Water District.

Lawrence C. Bevington, city administrator here, said that Monterey Park has completed its circulation of petitions and is now checking all the signatures. Mr. Bevington has been appointed administrator of the so-called Joint Powers Committee.

THE OTHER three cities have from 80 to 85 per cent of the required signatures. As soon as all petitions are completed, they will be filed with the County Clerk's office.

The signatures of 10 per cent of the registered voters in the November election must be obtained and the petitions must be filed by Feb. 21. This step will be completed before that date, Mr. Bevington said.

The Joint Powers Committee met Jan. 22 with members of the Upper San Gabriel Valley Water Association.

"WE HAD a very friendly discussion," said James P. Bradshaw, committee chairman, "and while we were in agreement on some points, and had differences on others, the objectives of the two groups have not changed."

"The representatives of the four cities (believe) that the interests of the people we represent can best be served by forming our own water district. We feel this is the only way we can protect and retain our legal rights on any and all problems pertaining to water, including the right of self-determination on the need, cost and the time of importing water."

Tree Planting Project Started By City Crews

An effort to further beautify Sierra Madre was started this week by city workers.

The city is now in the process of planting approximately 350 trees, including ash, oak and many other varieties.

When the project is completed, nearly every area in the city will sport new trees, according to Ben Mobley, superintendent of streets.

Dr. Herscher Heads Local Medical Staff

The re-election of Herbert L. Herscher, M.D., as president of the Sierra Madre Hospital medical staff was announced at the annual staff meeting last Thursday evening. Dr. Herscher will also serve as chief-of-staff.

Also announced were the elections of Nathan Jacobs, M.D., as vice president, and Norman F. Johnson, M.D., as secretary-treasurer.

Physicians appointed to the medical staff Executive Committee are Clyde L. Brower, Ralph Chapman, Don P. Nebeker, Gareth S. Ortman and John H. Platt.

Chairmen of the three major departments are Dr. Johnson, medicine; Dr. Nebeker, surgery, and Dr. Platt, obstetrics.

Other committee chairmen are Dr. Jacobs, Medical Records and Tissue; Dr. Brower, Credentials, and Dr. Platt, Program. Dr. Herscher and Dr. Johnson will serve as the Joint Conference Committee.

Larry C. Lomax, hospital administrator, gave a report of operational data for 1958. Dr. Platt presented the program which included a film on heart surgery and a demonstration of operating room equipment.

Lot Split OKed Despite Protests

Two zoning proposals created an uproar at the City Council meeting Tuesday night which was attended by about 65 residents.

In the most hotly debated proposal, the Council upheld the action of the Planning Commission and granted a lot division to Jack Fratt, who proposes to split his property at 294 Manzanita into three lots and build houses on them.

Thirty-five residents of the area protested the lot split in a petition, and almost all of them were at the City Council meeting, represented by Robert Hanley, Monrovia attorney. Noren Eaton represented Mr. Fratt.

AREA RESIDENTS wanted the Council to adopt an emergency interim ordinance which would have prohibited the lot split on grounds that it would adversely affect the welfare of the entire city. This request was denied.

A resolution by the Planning Commission rezoning the area on Manzanita and Orange Grove between Lima and Hermosa from R-1 (7,500 square feet lots) to R-1-1 (11,000 square feet) will be argued at a public hearing before the City Council Feb. 24. The area is now zoned as R-1.

Mr. Fratt's lot split complies with all provisions of the zoning ordinance as it now reads. Mr. Eaton argued that to deny the split would have compromised Mr. Fratt's rights under the Zoning Ordinance.

Speaking against the lot split were Frank Saumur, 285 Manzanita; Ralph Cohen, 325 W. Orange Grove, and R. D. Rubido, 326 N. Mountain Trail.

Also, Gordon Tyree, 144 S. Hermosa, accused the Council and Planning Commission of inconsistency. Mr. Tyree spoke twice.

THE SECOND re-zoning proposal was advanced by

Area Boys Receive High Scout Awards

Two of the highest awards in Scouting were presented to area boys Monday night at the Boy Scout Honor Court in Sierra Madre School.

Receiving the Silver Scout badge was John Born, 43 Sierra Pl., Sierra Madre. Donald Moore of Hastings Ranch was awarded the Eagle Scout badge.

Following ceremonies in the school, a reception was held for the Born youth by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan W. Born, at their home. Among guests were William Sprague Jr., John Born's first scoutmaster; William Newbery, scoutmaster of Born's troop, 372, and a group of friends.

The Eagle award was presented to the Moore youth by Alan Stearns of Post 374. Second Class awards were to Tim MacDonald, Urban Paulus, Bruce Tweedie, Rory Smith, John Sewall, Leon Moses, Bill Bains, Dick Hammers, Tom Mico, John Willis, Dick Perryman and Steve Smith.

First Class: John Van Iersal, Paty Tyler, Frank Tyler, Bill Euff, Robert Foster, Ricky Sain, Kevin Snow, Stan Westfall, Bob Dittmar, Larry Linden, Jim Chapman, Marvin Herriott, John Valentine and John Rawlings.

Star Scout: Robert Sailer, Karl Abbe, Douglas Morris, Terry Winn and David Kratzer.

Life Scout: Ken Broomfield and Dwight Freund.

FORD SALES UP

Ford car sales the second 10 days of January were more than 9 per cent higher than during the first 10 days of the month and 45 per cent higher than the number sold during the corresponding 10-day period in 1958, it was reported yesterday.

"BUSINESS INVESTS IN HEART" drive, Feb. 2 to 6, will be headed by Don Jackson, left, shown discussing the project with Mrs. Doris De Weese, community chairman for Heart Sunday, and Richard Lees, co-chairman. Mr. Jackson will head the committee which will solicit funds in the Sierra Madre business district.

Editorial

Enter 'Kersting Corral'

Al Suman, local businessman and artist, has come up with an idea involving Kersting Ct. parking which has the complete support of the Sierra Madre News.

As the photo on Page 1 illustrates, Mr. Suman proposes a parking mall or "corral" which would be used only for parking, not as a thoroughfare. There would be an attractive fence and gateway at both the entrance and exit. Kersting Ct. merchants would, in effect, have their own parking lot.

THE ADVANTAGES, in the words of Mr. Suman, are:

"1. The need for Kersting Ct. as a thoroughfare are obsolete. This cut-across-the-corner situation came about because of the location of the old Pacific Electric Interurban tracks, which were necessarily so located to enable the cars to make a slow turn around the corner. No more P.E.—no more need.

"2. It would aid the parking problem. Parallel parking on the north side could be instituted, with diagonal parking on the south side. This would give approximately the same number of spaces as are now available.

(It would also be possible, according to Police Chief Gordon MacMillan, to have angle parking on both sides, thus making room for possibly five or six more cars. The danger of cars parking on the north side of the street rolling backwards has been largely eliminated by the installation of a berm in most of the parking spaces.—Ed.)

"3. It would stop the fast driving through this area. Sometimes cars really tear through here. The cut-off and the easy diagonal entry seem to encourage speeding.

"4. It would be picturesque, if beautiful is too strong a word. The illustration shows this.

"5. It would be inexpensive. So inexpensive that it would be no great waste if, after a trial, it proved an inadequate solution. The posts need not even be buried. They could be anchored with large angle irons easily removed.

"Naturally, if successful, a more permanent fencing could be installed, possibly brick, to tie in with the existing planting area.

"6. It would stimulate beautification of this area which is more or less the heart of the village. Trees long since should have been placed along the north side of this street.

"We suggest trees in large masonry and brick containers. Flowering trees preferably that do not grow too large. Spares could be maintained at the city property and ailing trees could be replaced easily, using only an A-frame and a truck.

"7. Displacement of sidewalk space is no problem. There is no need for much sidewalk space any more. Foot traffic on sidewalks has fallen off 400 per cent in the past 20 years. Automobiles and parking space did it.

"8. The old pepper tree on the north side should go. Peppers are lousy trees anyhow, but this one should go even if only to allow straight line parallel parking."

These are the ideas of Al Suman, subscribed to by the Sierra Madre News. Many other cities have built parking malls which are working quite successfully.

There seems no reason why one wouldn't work here. The Sierra Madre News would appreciate hearing your viewpoint.—H.W.E.

Lee Shippey asks What Do You Think?

"It's what's up front that counts," he said. I smoothed my hair and got all set to meet Jayne Mansfield. But, instead, He handed me a cigarette.

AS THE foregoing may suggest, I got bored with a lot of cigarette advertising. Certainly what Miss Mansfield and a number of others have "up front" is much more noticeable than what any cigarette has. Another commercial tries to din into our minds the idea that all thinking men prefer a certain cigarette, when every smoker knows that if he really was guided by what he thought he wouldn't smoke any cigarette. To me, that commercial also seems to defeat itself by making all the "thinkers" it introduces parrot identical words instead of sometimes having an original idea of their own. Sometimes I get so bored I'm almost tempted to quit smoking.

HOWEVER, if I really were about to meet Miss Mansfield I suppose I would try to smooth down my unruly hair. We never get too old to wish to look fairly interesting to the opposite sex. That was demonstrated by a recent visitor to our town.

He was past his prime but didn't know it. At a party, he tried to monopolize the time of a very pretty girl half his age. When her glances kept straying to a young man near her own age, the older man challenged:

"I'm distressed that one as truly lovely as you are doesn't find me attractive at all."

She turned wide, innocent blue eyes on him. "Why, Mr. Blank," she protested, "that isn't true at all. I was just remarking to my girl chum that you must have been an extremely attractive man—in your time."

MAYBE WE shouldn't tell, but that same girl recently inspired her employer to poetry, as follows:

When is ten minutes thirty?

Alas, this is no fake.

It happens daily, Gertie,

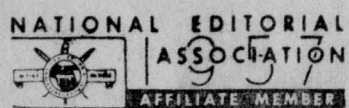

When you take a coffee break.

BACK TO commercials, if we really thought about them many would seem just as phony as do the songs of undying love which are crooned by recording "artists" who have been divorced several times.

GOLLY! I must be feeling crabby today. Better sign off.

"MY PEPPER TREE"

Dear Sir:
We were much interested to read in your issue of Jan. 22 the caption relative to "the pepper tree which has graced Kersting Ct. for many years."

This is the same pepper tree memorialized by our friend, the late poet and author, Jack Mitchell, in his delightful book of verse, "My Pepper Tree, and Other Verses" (Sierra Madre Press, 1922).

Many of the old-time residents of Sierra Madre will recall the author of "My Pepper Tree" and thank him for it.

Sincerely yours,
FRANK E. GIBSON.
P.O. Box 492
Grants Pass, Ore.

The poem by Jack Mitchell follows:

"MY PEPPER TREE"

What kindly hand, long, long ago
Set your young roots into the sod
And gave your tender trunk to grow
Into this handiwork of god?
You have been true unto the plan;
The goodly deed has borne rich fruit.

For you have shaded child and man
And blessed the passerby to boot.
The careless linger at your base;
The thoughtful stop to think awhile
As, through your fingers' interlace,
There comes the soft sun's golden smile.

Thou'rt not alone in homely hearts
Enshrined until the heart-beats end,
For I, who come from many parts,
Have learned to love you as a friend.

And when a slow-stepped cavalcade
Passes 'neath your blessing hand,
And I no more shall need your shade,
Just nod, old friend—I'll understand.

AD-RIME PRIZE

Dear Sir:
Thank you very much for the prize money. I don't know which was more exciting—first learning my line had won, listening to the family's reaction one by one (the four school children come home at different times), or receiving the check. I expect I should take the "all I've got" dollars up to a local merchant and buy a frame to put the check in. However, we can think of many more practical uses for it. So again thanks for the money and the good time.

Sincerely,
MRS. RBT. LEONARD.

SUCCESSFUL CLINIC

Dear Sir:
To all those who helped at our polio clinic on Jan. 16, we wish to express our sincere thanks. Special appreciation goes to the doctors at the Sierra Madre Medical Center for donating their services. Also the use of the Center as a centrally located place for the clinic. I know everyone was gratified with so great a response.

The line formed early and remained constant for the 2½ hours and in the end 900 shots had been given. However, proceedings did move rapidly and there was never a long wait. This was just fine for the many in line with children.

Surely there is no more simple way to wipe out polio than by means of these "dollar-a-shot" clinics.

Yours very truly,
MRS. E. V. CHAPMAN,
President, Civic Club.

For years, Leon Jenkins, highly esteemed Congregational Church Sunday School teacher and philosopher, has been hearing excuses from his students as to why they can't always make it on Sunday mornings. So last Sunday he gave his group of 12-year-olds a delightful and unforgettable lesson on the importance of attending classes—and the unimportance of what one wears.

Although he doesn't advocate informal garb as a rule, Leon greeted the Sunday Schoolers attired in his usual dignity—plus pajamas, slippers and a green woolen bathrobe.

P.S. He got the point across. HURWIT HOME. Now that Seaman Alan Hurwit is finally home (his two-year Navy hitch is over), his parents, Ralph and Ann Hurwit, will probably dismantle the Christmas tree. The Hurwits hoisted its furry branches a week before Christmas and have been saving it (how?) for a belated celebration with—Alan, who was due home last month. BUG BOUNTY. Shopping at Hartman's the other sunset, a lady customer scurried in with a pair of empty Mason jars and wanted them filled with chloroform and formaldehyde — for insect collecting. Since she appeared to be a neophyte in the art of specimen gathering, the pharmacist helpfully suggested that she saturate a piece of cotton with chloroform (a crustimoney procedure) and "when a bug comes along, chloroform it and THEN pop it into the formaldehyde."

The grateful shopper explained that she was capturing insects to send to her daughter—a teacher in an eastern college—who had run out of specimens due to heavy snows, and "all she has left are bits of legs and feelers."

Price of Johnson Victory May Be High

By Robert G. Spivack

THE JOHNSON-DIRKSEN NON-LEADERSHIP—Lyndon Johnson, often called the "Senator from Outer Space," is still congratulating himself on his spectacular triumph in whipping the Senate liberals and saving the filibuster for the Old South.

Some Washington writers have hailed this as further proof of Johnson's genius as a maneuverer. Others cite it as proof that no one in the liberal camp was capable of the ruthlessness or toughness demonstrated by the Gentleman from Texas.

Johnson himself insists that the Senate was only reflecting the popular will. What is that will, presumably reflected in last November's election? In Johnson's opinion:

"That will is a will, in all sections, for progress, for unity, for reason and for courage. All these high goals have been served by the Senate's course."

HIS PROSE is not likely to go down in history alongside Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, but it's worth examining because it was the last thing Johnson had to say before the Senate voted on his alleged filibuster "compromise."

What "unity" is Johnson talking about? It could be he was referring to his new arrangements with Everett McKinley Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader. After all it was Dirksen who really saved the day for Johnson and the Old South.

As new leader he could have swung 15 to 20 Republican votes towards the civil rights side of the argument. That would have marked Dirksen's independence and cost Johnson his victory? But Dirksen is already making it clear that he hopes, wants and expects to be Johnson's partner (and by no means silent partner) in running the Senate. So a Dirksen-Johnson "unity" has clearly been achieved.

Of course, there are some 17,000,000 Negroes excluded from this new unity. Where do they go for leadership and help? Certainly not to Dirksen and Johnson.

Then there are the innocent white school children of Little Rock, Norfolk, Charlottesville, Front Royal, all being deprived of an education, because Arkansas and Virginia politicians believe it is politically expedient to pander to the prejudices of their elders. They must be impressed by Johnson's talk of "progress" and senatorial "courage" in retaining the status quo. They will certainly remember it when they are barred entry to good colleges because they are under-educated.

JOHNSON'S REAL BLUNDER—But applying Johnson's own standards as a politician can his handling of the filibuster fight be considered a genuine success? The answer, I believe, must be "no." I say that because to a politician the real measure of success is "what was accomplished?"

When you apply that standard the answer must be "very little." The filibuster episode showed everybody that Johnson could be tough, humorless and obstinate. But that's not much to survive on and it came as no surprise to anyone.

An invitation to residents of the community who are seeking a church is issued today by Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church, 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., where an evangelism mission is taking place.

A series of four sermons on the theme, "Christ Is Calling You," is offered at the church, said the Rev. Ray E. Hansen, pastor. The messages will be given by Rev. H. Paul Romeis of Pasadena, missions supervisor of the Pacific Southwest Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America.

DR. ROMEIS, formerly pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Pasadena, will preach at 10 a.m. Sunday, Feb. 1, on "For a Time Like This." That evening, at 8 o'clock, his topic will be "Jesus Passes By."

At 8 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 4, Dr. Romeis will deliver the sermon, "Power to Stand." His final appearance will be at 8 p.m. Friday, Feb. 6, preaching on "Having Then Gifts."

The evening services will be informal, with a hymn sing, responsive reading, Scripture and the guest preacher's sermon. A question period will follow. The series is open to all who desire to come.

Resident Speaks on World Faith

In observance of World Religion Day, commemorated annually by the Baha'is of the United States on the third Sunday in January, a Sierra Madre resident, Mrs. Joseph McCormack, was the featured speaker at a meeting Jan. 17 in Twenty-nine Palms and at meetings Jan. 18 in Palm Springs and Riverside.

"World Religion Day, which was first observed in 1950, is designed to proclaim the oneness of all revealed religions," Mrs. McCormack explained in her talks.

"In the middle of the 19th century, Baha'u'llah, the founder of the Baha'i Faith, brought this universal concept to the world. Since the day of Adam, the founders of divine religions have striven to unite humanity in the worship of one God and have summoned all to universal peace. Humanity can find no justice nor permanent world peace, Baha'is affirm, apart from this universal concept of religion. The Baha'i revelation claims not to destroy nor belittle previous revelations, but to connect, unify and fulfill them."

Garden Notes . . .

Berry Bushes Thrive In Most of State

Take a bowl of fresh-picked blackberries, add a generous helping of cream and sugar and you have what many a gardener insists is the ultimate enjoyment from gardening effort. Or is your dish a bowl of raspberries? You can have either or both in practically every corner of California.

The blackberry varieties which most members of the California Association of Nurserymen recommend are Boysen, Logan, Young and Nectar. All are at their peak in the cooler coastal valleys of Northern California, but yield good crops in practically every region where they are planted—low desert areas excepted.

RASPBERRIES are definitely better for cooler summer conditions than much of California affords, but here again, they are worth planting and usually succeed in home gardens where commercial growers would hesitate to plant them.

For easiest control, use a trellis. Provide sturdy end posts—at least 4" x 4" in size—about 4½ feet above the ground. String a number 12 or 13 galvanized wire taut between the tops of these and another at about 2½ or 3 feet above the ground. Intermediate supports of 2" x 2" redwood should be spaced at about 12-foot intervals.

Let canes grow the first year. In August, head cut each cane at about 8 feet and twine it around the wires of the trellis—loosely. In fall, cut lateral growth at about 15 inches. The following year, these canes will bear fruit and should be cut completely back after they do. New growth which has been left to sprawl should then be headed back and treated exactly as the new growth was the year before.

Area Educators To Speak at Marshall High

"Long Term Goals in Education" will be discussed by three of the Southland's leading educators on Wednesday evening, Feb. 4, in the John Marshall Junior High School auditorium. The meeting will start at 7:45 o'clock.

In a panel presentation, Dr. Lee DuBridge, president of the California Institute of Technology; Dr. Arthur Coons, president of Occidental College, and Dr. Robert Jenkins, Pasadena superintendent of schools, will each speak concerning his own field.

This meeting, open to the public, is being sponsored by the Pasadena Council of Parents and Teachers.

Zoning Fight

The Council adopted Mr. Bevington's suggestion. City Attorney Charles Martin was instructed to proceed with the necessary legal work, while Mr. Bevington was asked to poll residents and businessmen who would have to pay for the new street.

If the street is built—a project which has been proposed at various times for the past 10 years—an alley may also be constructed behind stores on Sierra Madre Blvd.

In addition, Mr. Rasmusen may be granted a zone change and be able to proceed with plans to put up an apartment building.

People who claim they have never found their level generally have never done their level best.

Wire is strung down the ends of these and the canes are trained up between the wires.

All this takes a modicum of effort one or two times a year. But you'll forget about it in a hurry when you've sampled the results.

Meet World's Top Mackerel Fisherman

By Al Miyadi

HEMINGWAY SATO — It was cold. And there we sat in the back office of Sink-Sun Produce.

Hemingway Sato stared me down, then asked: "What'd you say?"

I said: "Why is it that the Japanese seem so much more proficient in the art of angling than, say, Cubans or Malaysians?"

Hemingway looked at me thoughtfully, scratched his belly, and said: "Let me think. Yes, let me think."

I NERVOUSLY fingered my notebook. I could hardly restrain myself. Here I was, a personal interview with the greatest mackerel fisherman the world has ever known.

Mr. Patience, they called him along Tokyo Row. "Dynamite," said Mr. Patience.

"No, no, no," I said, "that's not what I meant!"

Hemingway leaned forward, gripped me by my writing hand, and said: "Say, Sonny, you wouldn't want to split a Miltown with me?"

"No, no, no. I want The Secret, you know, The Secret!"

A LOOK of sudden comprehension swept over Hemingway's face. He leaned even closer, nose to nose, patted me on the wrist.

"Post positions, he whispered. "Sir," I said, withdrawing my nose, "there seems to be some misunderstanding here. I'm not unaware of your, uh, 'hobby,' but . . .

"Daily Racing Form," he said, "greatest little old newspaper in the world. Do much reading, Sonny?"

" . . . All I want from you is The Secret to your success . . ."

"Say, he drew back sharply, suspicion suddenly clouding his face, 'you ain't one of them T-Men?"

" . . . As the world's leading mackerel fisherman, you . . ."

"OH, MACKEREL!" he shook his head, chuckling like crazy. "Sonny, you had me confused. Mackerel! Why didn't you speak up, Boy?"

"Well, sir, when you mentioned dynamite . . ."

"Boy, don't you know that's against the law?"

"Well, yes sir, but . . ."

"You sure you don't want to split a Miltown?"

"Now, just wait one moment, Mr. Sato . . ."

"I was getting angry."

"Sato? Sato? What Sato?"

"Now look, Hemingway," I said.

Then he laughed. How he laughed. So much so that he accidentally tipped over a tiny, gleaming box, quite a beautiful one, Ming Dynasty . . . Ming Dynasty?

"TELL ME the truth, now," he roared, cracking me in the ribs with his elbow. "Can you really tell them apart?"

"What'd you say?" I asked.

"The Japanese, I mean," he said, coughing and belching something terrible.

"Mr. Sato, I resent . . ." But he cut me off.

"Ho Ho Lee," he said.

"Well, Ho, Ho to you, but . . ."

"That's me, Sonny, I'm Hemingway's partner!"

Garden Notes . . .

Berry Bushes Thrive In Most of State

Take a bowl of fresh-picked blackberries, add a generous helping of cream and sugar and you have what many a gardener insists is the ultimate enjoyment from gardening effort. Or is your dish a bowl of raspberries? You can have either or both in practically every corner of California.

The blackberry varieties which most members of the California Association of Nurserymen recommend are Boysen, Logan, Young and Nectar. All are at their peak in the cooler coastal valleys of Northern California, but yield good crops in practically every region where they are planted—low desert areas excepted.

RASPBERRIES are definitely better for cooler summer conditions than much of California affords, but here again, they are worth planting and usually succeed in home gardens where commercial growers would hesitate to plant them.

For easiest control, use a trellis. Provide sturdy end posts—at least 4" x 4" in size—about 4½ feet above the ground. String a number 12 or 13 galvanized wire taut between the tops of these and another at about 2½ or 3 feet above the ground. Intermediate supports of 2" x 2" redwood should be spaced at about 12-foot intervals.

Let canes grow the first year. In August, head cut each cane at about 8 feet and twine it around the wires of the trellis—loosely. In fall, cut lateral growth at about 15 inches. The following year, these canes will bear fruit and should be cut completely back after they do. New growth which has been left to sprawl should then be headed back and treated exactly as the new growth was the year before.

Area Educators To Speak at Marshall High

"Long Term Goals in Education" will be discussed by three of the Southland's leading educators on Wednesday evening, Feb. 4, in the John Marshall Junior High School auditorium. The meeting will start at 7:45 o'clock.

In a panel presentation, Dr. Lee DuBridge, president of the California Institute of Technology; Dr. Arthur Coons, president of Occidental College, and Dr. Robert Jenkins, Pasadena superintendent of schools, will each speak concerning his own field.

This meeting, open to the public, is being sponsored by the Pasadena Council of Parents and Teachers.

anza through to Hermosa. The Council adopted Mr. Bevington's suggestion. City Attorney Charles Martin was instructed to proceed with the necessary legal work, while Mr. Bevington was asked to poll residents and businessmen who would have to pay for the new street.

If the street is built—a project which has been proposed at various times for the past 10 years—an alley may also be constructed behind stores on Sierra Madre Blvd.

In addition, Mr. Rasmusen may be granted a zone change and be able to proceed with plans to put up an apartment building.

People who claim they have never found their level generally have never done their level best.

Meet World's Top Mackerel Fisherman

By Al Miyadi

HEMINGWAY SATO — It was cold. And there we sat in the back office of Sinking Sun Produce.

Hemingway Sato stared me down, then asked: "What'd you say?"

I said: "Why is it that the Japanese seem so much more proficient in the art of angling than, say, Cubans or Malaysians?"

Hemingway looked at me thoughtfully, scratched his belly, and said: "Let me think. Yes, let me think."

I NERVOUSLY fingered my notebook. I could hardly restrain myself. Here I was, a personal interview with the greatest mackerel fisherman the world has ever known. Mr. Patience, they called him along Tokyo Row. "Dynamite," said Mr. Patience.

"No, no, no," I said, "that's not what I meant!" Hemingway leaned forward, gripped me by my writing hand, and said: "Say, Sonny, you wouldn't want to split a Miltown with me?"

"No, no, no. I want The Secret, you know, The Secret!"

A LOOK of sudden comprehension swept over Hemingway's face. He leaned even closer, nose to nose, patted me on the wrist.

"Post positions, he whispered. "Sir," I said, withdrawing my nose, "there seems to be some misunderstanding here. I'm not unaware of your, uh, 'hobby,' but . . ."

"Daily Racing Form," he said, "greatest little old newspaper in the world. Do much reading, Sonny?"

" . . . All I want from you is The Secret to your success . . ."

"Say, he drew back sharply, suspicion suddenly clouding his face, 'you ain't one of them T-Men?'"

" . . . As the world's leading mackerel fisherman, you . . ."

"OH, MACKEREL!" he shook his head, chuckling like crazy. "Sonny, you had me confused. Mackerel! Why didn't you speak up, Boy?"

"Well, sir, when you mentioned dynamite . . ."

"Boy, don't you know that's against the law?"

"Well, yes sir, but . . ."

"You sure you don't want to split a Miltown?"

"Now, just wait one moment, Mr. Sato . . . I was getting angry."

"Sato? Sato? What Sato?"

"Now look, Hemingway," I said.

Then he laughed. How he laughed. So much so that he accidentally tipped over a tiny, gleaming box, quite a beautiful one, Ming Dynasty . . . Ming Dynasty?

"TELL ME the truth, now,"

he roared, cracking me in the ribs with his elbow. "Can you really tell them apart?"

"What'd you say "I asked."

"The Japanese, I mean," he said, coughing and belching something terrible.

"Mr. Sato, I resent . . ." But he cut me off.

"Ho Ho Lee," he said. "Well, Ho, Ho to you, but . . ."

"That's me, Sonny, I'm Hemingway's partner!"

Camellia Display Tops Month's Events

Camels will be racing again and the greatest camellia display in the world will occur in Southern California during February, according to the monthly events calendar issued yesterday by the All-Year Club.

The camels will be racing daily at the Riverside County Fair and National Trade Festival held Feb. 14-23 in an Arabian setting at Indio. There will be a Slave Girl Mart and Arabian Nights Pageant.

IT'S CAMELLIA time and Temple City hold its unique Camellia Festival Feb. 21-28. There will be a display of 1,500 blossoms on the 21st and 22nd and a parade of 4x6-foot camellia floats designed and propelled by children at 10 a.m. on the 28th.

Descanso Gardens in La Canada holds the world's biggest camellia exhibit Feb. 28 to March 8. About 50,000 bushes and trees will be in bloom and cut flowers will be shown by camellia societies.

At a time when most of America's farms are snow-bound, the California Mid-Winter Fair and Festival of Nations will be held at the town of Imperial Feb. 28-March 8. The festival honors eight nationalities who reclaimed Imperial Valley from the desert—China, India, Japan, Mexico, Pakistan, Philippines, Switzerland and the United States.

WHISKEY FLAT Days will be celebrated Feb. 18-22 at new Kernville beside Lake Isabella, the sportsman's paradise high up in the Kern River valley above Bakersfield. Old Kernville, now under waters of the lake, was known as Whiskey Flats. There will be tours of mines and ghost towns and an old-time political rally to elect a mayor of Whiskey Flats.

Palm Springs holds its 19th annual rodeo Feb. 7-8.

J. H. WIGGINS, left, 206 Oak Meadow Rd., chief of business methods with the Fluor Corp., Ltd., receives his 5-year service pin Jan. 23 from D. W. Darnell, board chairman of the engineering-construction firm. He was among the 177 Los Angeles area employees who received recognition for a total of 1,215 years of service with the company.

Your Health . . .

No Medication Is Known To Prevent Common Cold

By Roy O. Gilbert, M.D., L.A. County Health Officer

This is apparently the beginning of the season for colds in Los Angeles County. Following the change in local temperature that took place during the recent rain, an outbreak of colds occurred. When the present clear weather ends again and the barometric pressure drops, as it is likely to do in the near future, another outbreak of this minor respiratory illness will almost certainly result.

There are many different viruses that attack the mucous membranes of the nose and throat, each of which affects different people in different ways. This probably accounts for the variety of symptoms that generally occurs during an epidemic of this type.

ONCE STARTED, the common cold passes quickly from one person to another. This takes place because the cold viruses are air-borne and the coughs and sneezes of infected individuals soon result in widespread dissemination of the cold germs.

In addition to coughs and sneezes, the virus may also be spread through contact with articles, such as drinking glasses or utensils, that have recently been used by some infected person. The disorder is usually most infectious during the first couple of days, although a cold may last for a week or longer.

An attack of the common cold confers no immunity whatsoever, and it is therefore possible for a person to catch one cold after another. This often happens since, after one cold, the individual's resistance to such infections is usually somewhat less than normal.

THE MOST effective treatment for a cold is rest in bed at the onset of the illness. Some physicians are of the opinion that a stable room temperature is important. Certainly, a quick recovery cannot be expected if the individual is chilled one minute and warm the next.

If a cold persists over too long a period, or if it is accompanied by a fever for more than 24 hours, the best rule is to consult a physician. A pamphlet on respiratory disorders will be mailed to anyone who sends a card of request to the Division of Health Education, Los Angeles County Health Department, 241 N. Figueroa St., Los Angeles 12.

VILLA VIEWS

Gone are the days of the good old Almanac. The one that could predict everything from your winter corns to when Aunt Bessie was coming to pay her visit. The little 33-page one I picked up the other day predicts fair and pleasant weather in California for the rest of the month and a little dampness in February, but mostly fair and warmer. How much fair and warmer can it get is what I'm wondering.

At this point I am completely unscrewed. I'm so mad at the Japanese current for changing and at the cloud seeders for taking the rain that I just know would have drifted this way, and besides that I am sick of watering. Sick! Sick! Sick (Now watch it pour.)

IT IS always a hard thing to say good-bye to old friends. Such will be the occasion on Friday night, Mr. and Mrs. George Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rogers are having a farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. William Friedrich, who are moving to Menlo Park Saturday morning with their two children, Bill and Mary. The guests will include Messrs. and Mesdames Speltz Parker, George Amthor, Arturo Gutierrez, Ralph Pacquette, Charles Klingerman, Carl Mounter, Ernest Maurin, Frank Williams, Charles Brinton, William Saunders, Gerald Ferracane, John Garo, T. J. Huber, Bob Miller, Jim Germaine, Richard Pember, John Eppard, James Nixon, Willard Boedecker, Marvin Ness, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schmidt.

Mr. Friedrich will be associated with Cornish and Carey, Realtors, in Palo Alto. Their new home address will be 328 Waverly St., in Menlo Park.

HAPPY NEWS on the Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Don Webster of 1960 Sierra Madre Villa became the parents of an 8 pound, 13 ounce baby girl on Jan. 13. They have named her Julie Anita. She has a sister, Donyee, 15; a brother, Tom, 12, and another sister, Cindy, 4½.

MR. AND MRS. Burton Dake of Villa Heights Road entertained last Saturday night at a bridge and late buffet party. Their guests included Messrs. and Mesdames Ervin Wright, Burton Tookers, Chuck Moore, Vernon Leif and Paul Leylander.

DR. C. L. SHUSTER of Sierra Madre Villa just recently returned from a trip to New York. He is now making plans to go to Honolulu soon where a new Presbyterian church is now being constructed and established.

MRS. SAM MATLOFF and Mrs. C. C. Campbell gave a baby shower at the Matloff home last Saturday night in honor of Mrs. Walter Zaiss of 414 Ramona Ave. Mr. and Mrs. Zaiss just became the parents of a chosen child this month. He is a little 4-month-old baby boy, born Sept. 19. They are calling him James Edward.

She received an entire layette for her son. After the gift opening, lovely tea sandwiches, cakes and coffee were served. The entire motif of course was carried out in blue with a huge bottle as the predominant feature. The guests included Mesdames Bryan Kline, George Mecke, Harry Morley, Pat Beutler, Harry Irving, Gerald Brame, Al Thompson, Frank Holman, Harry Johnson, Leonard LeMay, George Whyte, Charles Free, Victor Matloff, Guy Hodgkins, Donald Hall, Robert Hall, Wilmer Brown, Edward Vail, Woodrow Staus, Otto Delsite, Wayne Boling, Miss Madeline Delsite and Miss Christine Staus.

MRS. E. MARSHALL Harris of Sierra Madre Villa gave a bridge luncheon last Friday to honor Mrs. Francis

RANCHETTES

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Norris, 1220 Daverie, are the parents of a daughter, Allison, born Jan. 9 at Huntington Memorial Hospital, weighing 6 pounds, 6 ounces. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Horn of San Diego. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Norris of Miami, Fla. The other Norris children are Barbara, 7; Donald, 6, and Kim, 3½.

New Play at Padua Hills

LOVERS—Maria Abundiz and Rogelio Alfaro share romantic spotlight in "Patcuaro" at Padua Hills Theatre. The three-act comedy runs for seven weeks through Feb. 28.

UP ON ...

Hastings Hill

You know that new red brick building at the Rosemead-Sierra Madre Villa intersection? That is the new Hastings Ranch branch library and it is all set to open. Awaiting only the arrival of new furniture, the library will open with fanfare early in February.

Miss Lillian Strickland, present head of the Lamanda Park branch, will take over as chief of the Hastings branch. The library will be open from 1 to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday; from 1 to 6 p.m. on Friday and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday.

Dedication ceremonies are being arranged, when keys for the new structure will be turned over to the city fathers, and officials of local industries will be present. Later an open house for all will be held.

Girls Club Offers New Classes

Pasadena Girls Club is offering a new and varied program for young ladies between the ages of 7 and 16.

A dog obedience school, under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Ginocchio of Altadena, started last Saturday at the clubhouse, 3160 Blanche St. Girls, 12 and over, may bring their poorly-mannered pets to the six-week course and learn how to make ladies and gentlemen of them. At the end of the training period there will be graduation ceremonies, dog show and awards.

Mrs. Evelyn DeWitt, club board member, is offering a class in personality development for girls 10 years and older. Her popular class of creative dance is now open to 7-year-olds. A six-week charm course, open to 12-year-olds through 16, started last Tuesday night. Her figure trim class for adults is still scheduled at 10:30 a.m. each Tuesday.

Miss Nan Pettnick of Children's Masque Theater is now offering an evening class for girls, 9 years through 16, on Thursdays. French classes for girls 9 and over are being conducted by Mrs. Donald Davis of San Marino each Wednesday afternoon at 3:30. Cooking classes, held each weekday afternoon, still cannot accommodate all the eager young cooks, so a new class has been scheduled for Saturday mornings.

Winn, who is leaving our part of the country soon. The other guests included Mesdames John L. Horne, Horace Ray, David Zinsmeyer, Paul Siebert, Eldon Osburn and Ken Smith.

Leaders Announced In Bridge Tournament

With the Hastings Ranch Nursery School bridge tournament at the half-way mark, Mr. and Mrs. Berry Senne, co-chairmen of the event, have announced the two leading couples in each of the four 10-couple groups playing.

Leading in Group I are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard W. Cowan, with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Benke, second.

Group II—Mr. and Mrs. Berry Senne, first; Mr. and Mrs. John Crehan, second.

Group III—Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Seiswinger, first; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin McClain, second.

Group IV—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hustedt, first; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bondurant, second.

Most of the couples in the tournament have completed four games and should be scheduling their fifth. Nine games are to be played in all, the top couples in each group playing off for the championship the latter part of May.

Couples who have not played all their games to date, should catch up as soon as possible, Mr. Senne reminded. Players are allowed three weeks to schedule a game with each opponent. If all games are not completed by the end of the tournament, those involved forfeit their chances of winning the tournament.

Besides writing, Susie enjoys camping, swimming (she is a senior life saver), dancing and art. She likes working with children and is currently assisting in teaching at her Sunday School.

Prior to her coming to Pasadena High School, she served as vice president of the student body at Marshall Junior High School. She is a member of California Scholarship Federation, Thespians, Pasadena BBG and PHS Drill Team.

Don Benito To Have Adult Class

A new class in beginning Spanish for adults will be offered at Don Benito School beginning on Monday, Feb. 2, in Room 23.

This class, under the extended day program of Pasadena City College, will meet weekly on Mondays from 7 to 9:30 p.m. during the spring semester.

The instructor is Raoul Guzman, who teaches Spanish regularly in McKinley Junior High School and in the extended day program. He formerly taught in Covina.

The monthly executive board meeting of the Don Benito PTA will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 4, at 7:45 p.m., in the school auditorium. This meeting is open to all members of PTA.

Teen Talks At Wilson

"At what age and grade should boys and girls begin dating?"

This question and others of interest to teenagers and their parents will be discussed in a series of four open forum meetings at Wilson Junior High School. The first session was last Wednesday in the school auditorium.

Mrs. B. N. Howell, Wilson PTA education chairman, in announcing the series of meetings, said both teenagers and parents are invited to join in the discussion.

Other meetings are scheduled Feb. 4, 11 and 18.

BUSINESS ACTIVITY in the southern half of California as measured by the index compiled monthly by the Research Department of Security First National Bank advanced in December for the ninth consecutive month, according to E. W. Wiegand, vice president and manager of the bank's Foothill and Rosemead branch. A new record high was established for the third consecutive month and as compared with December, 1957, the business index was up 5½ per cent, the local banker stated. Department store sales in Southern California were at a record level during the recent Christmas shopping season.
